DIRECTORY OF FARMER COOPERATIVES

aHD1491.U5 A47

Abstract

This directory contains a listing, by state, of more than 400 farmer-owned marketing, farm supply, service, and bargaining cooperatives. There are about 3,100 farmer-owned cooperatives in the United States, so this directory is not a complete list. However, the cooperatives listed here represent the major cooperatives in almost every State. They were included either because they: had total business volume of $30 million or more; were one of the largest cooperatives in a state where no cooperatives had sales of more than $30 million, or handled or provided unique products or services. The directory also lists State or regional cooperative councils, and development centers, and selected agricultural financial institutions. In addition, most states have Rural Development offices that also deal with cooperatives and their formation.

Keywords: Cooperatives, marketing, farm supply, service, bargaining, directory.

RBS Service Report 22
Revised January 2004

Preface

This directory contains a listing, by state, of more than 400 farmer-owned marketing, farm supply, service, and bargaining cooperatives. The cooperative name, address, chief executive officer, phone and fax numbers, e-mail address, and Internet home page address are included alphabetically by state.

Cooperatives are classified according to type. Most are marketing, farm supply, service, bargaining, or a combination. Marketing cooperatives assemble and market commodities produced mostly by their farmer-members and may or may not engage in processing. Farm supply cooperatives purchase and/or manufacture farm production supplies for distribution, mostly to farmer-members. Service cooperatives perform a range of farm production and management related services, such as ginning, grove care, agronomic services, financial and management consulting, artificial insemination and herd management, transportation, and storage. Bargaining cooperatives negotiate price, quality, and delivery terms with buyers on behalf of their members, but typically do not take title to commodities.

The directory also includes a listing of State or regional councils or associations of cooperatives, cooperative development centers, and cooperative financial institutions. The authors extend their appreciation to the cooperatives that provided the information for this updated report. Readers are asked to advise us of changes as they occur so the directory can be updated in a timely manner. Updates will be incorporated in our online directory found at this address: www.rurdev.usda.gov/rbs/pub/sr22.pdf. U.S. Department of Agric
Rural Development®
Rural Business—Cooperative Service

Stop 3250
Washington, D.C. 20250-3250

Rural Business—Cooperative Service (RBS) provides research, management, and educational assistance to cooperatives to strengthen the economic position of farmers and other rural residents. It works directly with cooperative leaders and Federal and State agencies to improve organization, leadership, and operation of cooperatives and to give guidance to further development.

The cooperative segment of RBS (1) helps farmers and other rural residents develop cooperatives to obtain supplies and services at lower cost and to get better prices for products they sell; (2) advises rural residents on developing existing resources through cooperative action to enhance rural living; (3) helps cooperatives improve services and operating efficiency; (4) informs members, directors, employees, and the public on how cooperatives work and benefit their members and their communities; and (5) encourages international cooperative programs. RBS also publishes research and educational materials and issues Rural Cooperatives magazine.
